PREFACE

The Student Handbook of Broward Community College is published each summer by the Student Activities Office. Its purpose is to provide you with a reference for campus activities, student life, and college procedures.

It is noted that although the information contained is carefully collected it will not take the place of talking to someone. Faculty, administrators and college staff members have chosen this college as the place for their work, and meeting you is part of this experience.

In a large community college many students may come and go without meeting those who are a part of it. Make every effort you can to introduce yourself. Meet professors, deans, and academic advisors. You will be glad you did.

The information in the Student Handbook should be used in conjunction with the college catalog.

ACADEMIC DIVISIONS

DIVISION OF MATH AND SCIENCE

The Division of Mathematics and Science offers the student an opportunity to study the mathematical and scientific concepts necessary for general education requirements, as well as further study in the areas of engineering, mathematics, science, and related fields.

Suggested program sheets are available in Biology, Chemistry, Engineering, Forestry, Geology, Optometry, Pharmacy, Medicine, Dentistry, Veterinary Medicine, Chiropractic, Astronomy, Mathematics, Physics, and Agriculture Science.

MATHEMATICS

The Mathematics Curriculum has course offerings covering a variety of needs. Course pre-requisites for physics, engineering and business are included. Entering students will be assigned to the mathematics course best suited to their needs and abilities based on results from placement test scores. MAT 0002 and MAT 1013 are basic studies courses designed to correct deficiencies in the student's mathematics background. Neither MAT 0002 or MAT 1013 will count toward General Education Mathematics requirements for graduation. MAT 1033 and MGF 1202 (MGF 1204, 1205, 1206) are the recommended courses for students needing only six semester hours of mathematics. For students majoring in mathematics, science, and for other students needing two or more semesters of mathematics, the following sequence of courses is available: MAT 1033, MAC 1132, MAC 1133, MAC 2311, (MAC 2301, 2302) MAC 2312 (MAC 2303, 2304), MAP 2302, MAS 2103. MAS 2103 may be taken following MAC 1132. MTB 1304 is a non-sequential service course which may be taken concurrently with any other mathematics course. MTB 1320, MTB 1321 and MTB 1322 are designed to meet the needs of students in technical and specialized programs. STA 1013 may be used to satisfy three of the six semester hours of the required mathematics provided that MGF 1202 is excluded from the six hours. AA-degree seeking students are encouraged to take the BCC-College Level Academic Skills Test (BCC-CLAST) in Mathematics prior to his/her term of graduation. The BCC-Clast in Mathematics is available in the Learning Resource Center on each campus.

BIOLOGICAL AND PHYSICAL SCIENCES

The Biology Department offers courses in Biology, Anatomy and Physiology, Microbiology, Botany, and Zoology and their attendant laboratories. In the Physical Sciences Department, courses in Astronomy, Chemistry, Geology, Physics, and Physical Science some with accompanying laboratories, are offered. Some lecture and laboratory courses are co-requisites. The student should consult the catalog in order that he may be aware of this and enroll correctly.

The course offerings cover a variety of needs including courses for science majors as well as students in related fields. In addition, courses are provided to meet the general education requirements for non-science majors and the specialized needs of technical students. Many of the science courses are sequential. Students beginning sequence courses such as APB 1190-1191. CHM 1040-1041-1042, CHM 1045-1046, CHM 2210-2211, PHY 2048-2049, and PHY 2053-2954, should plan to complete the sequence in this college to avoid transfer problems.

COMMUNICATIONS

Communication is . . .

taking a photograph
using sign language for the deaf speaking French writing a love letter giving a speech before the City Commission talking out a problem with someone who needs help writing a formal research paper sending a letter to the editor doing a feature article for the Observer, teaching someone to speak English reading a chapter in psychology writing a poem or short story

The Communications Division at Broward Community College has courses and programs to help you enhance any or all of the above skills -except perhaps the third one. A staff of instructors, each an expert in his or her field, is available to work with you in class and individually.

For more detailed and specific information on courses, credits, graduation requirements, possible major fields of study within the communications area, you should consult the college catalog, the Counseling Office, a department head, a particular instructor or a publications advisor.

So, if your goal is to improve your skills in reading, writing, speaking, and listening, or in a foreign language, the Communications Division is the place to do it. Good Luck!

HEALTH, PHYSICAL EDUCATION, RECREATION, AND DANCE

"The Department of Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance is committed to the wellness and the development of the health conscienceness of students." Special emphasis is placed on wellness and fitness in a series of courses entitled Health-Fitness, Weight Training, Yoga, and Jogging. Students are encouraged to enroll in at least one of the wellness series courses in order to develop a fit lifestyle. The theme of wellness and fitness continues throughout the remaining HRPD activities in which students can continue to participate for a lifetime. To enhance the health consciousness of students, a lecture course on Personal Health can be taken for elective credit.

All activity courses are 1 hour credit except Health Fitness which is 2 credit hours. Non-swimmers are encouraged to enroll in a beginning swimming course.

All A.S. degree programs require two credit hours of HPRD activity classes and all A.A. degree programs require 4 credit hours of HPRD activity classes. No exemptions shall be permitted from A.S. or A.A. degree HPRD requirements because of age, veterans status or medical reasons. (Note: Students with medical restrictions of physical limitations may, with a physician's approval participate in any HPRD class specifically designated for the medically restricted with permission of the HPRD Department Chair. Students with total activity restriction may enroll in designated HPRD lecture classes with medical verification which is approved by the HPRD Department Chair).

The following Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance are 3 credit lecture courses and can be taken for elective credit but do not satisfy the required credit hours of activity: DAA1376, DAA2840, DAA2841, DAA2842, HES1400, HES2000, LEI1000, LEI1310, LEI1700, LEI1800, PEO1002, PEO1341, PEO2321, PEP2201, PEQ1101, PEO1003, PEG2115, PEQ2231, PET1000.

Students cannot receive credit for a beginning course after they have gained credit in the intermediate sequence of a particular sport. For example, a student cannot get credit for Beginning Tennis after taking Intermediate Tennis. Nor can a student take a beginning and an intermediate sequence of the same sport concurrently.

Apparel that meets the approval of the Physical Education Department must be worn by the student.

Students should be aware that participation in physical activity carries a degree of risk. Therefore, students are expected to follow instructions and safety precautions given by the HPRD instructor. Also, students must inform the instructor of any existing medical problems. (Note: The college does not carry insurance to cover accidents which occur during college classes).

HUMANITIES

The Division of Humanities offers students an opportunity to investigate and acquaint themselves with the visual arts, theatre arts, music performance and music education, philosophy, and religion. Students may select courses which increase their understanding and appreciation for the arts as part of their general cultural knowledge and heritage, or they may follow a program of studies in one area leading to a major at a senior institution. Performing activities are avialable to students in THEATRE, CHORUS, OPERA, BAND, ORCHESTRA and JAZZ.

ENGINEERING TECHNOLOGY

The Engineering Technology Institute offers A.S. degree programs in a variety of disciplines. Engineering technicians are educated in the theory and application of engineering principles. They are employed in a wide variety of areas from research to production. The A.S. degree is transferrable to universities offering degrees in Engineering Technology.

ARCHITECTURAL TECHNOLOGY

Architectural Technology provides the basic concepts and practices employed in the architectural field. Specific problem-solving situations qualify the students for architectural drafting, specifications writing, pictorial and model presentation.

The Institute is certified by the Florida Criminal Justice Standards and Training Commission as a Training Center for both Police and Corrections entry and advanced programs.

The Criminal Justice Institute, in cooperation with all Criminal Justice agencies in Broward County, strives to meet their needs through the above programs and through the presentation of workshops and seminars presented by local, state and national experts who are qualified in specific areas.

The Institute operates with the combined support of the College, the Broward School Board, the Chiefs of Police Association, Region XIII of the Law Enforcement Training Trust Fund, and the Criminal Justice Standards and Training Commission.

FOREIGN STUDY PROGRAM

Broward Community College provides students with several opportunities to enroll an overseas academic program. It is recognized that students will benefit from the added dimension to their education by participating in a foreign study experience. BCC has conducted study programs in foreign languages since 1974. Students participating in these programs receive transferable college credit. Both short-term (summer) and long-term (semester) programs are offered. Examples of study-aboard programs offered at BCC include:

SEMESTER-IN-SPAIN PROGRAM: The BCC Center in Spain was established in 1979 to provide students with an opportunity to study for several months in a foreign country at reasonable cost. Students live and attend classes in the beautiful city of Seville, Spain, and earn 15-18 semester hours credit by participating in the program. Unlike other programs in Spain, the Broward program does not require proficiency in Spanish — any student may participate as the language of instruction is English. Students participating in the Spain Program may choose from several housing options, including Spanish families, dormitories, and pensions. The approximate per student cost is $2300 per semester, including air fare.

COLLEGE CONSORTIUM FOR INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION (CCIS): Broward Community College is an active member of the College Consortium for International Studies, a national organization founded for the purpose of providing high quality international/intercultural programs aboard. As a result of this membership in CCIS, Broward offers semester-length academic programs in over a dozen countries including England, France, Germany, Italy, and Israel. Students earn BCC credits when they enroll in any of these programs.

SUMMER FOREIGN-STUDY PROGRAM: Broward Community College also conducts several short-term overseas academic programs in foreign locations during the summer terms. These courses, which are open to any interested person in the community as well as currently enrolled students, provide an excellent opportunity to combine the foreign travel experience with academic instruction. By taking advantage of group rates and favorable arrangements with area travel agents, the College is able to offer these overseas academic programs at considerable savings. All foreign-study courses combine on-campus instructions with the foreign travel experience. Participants typically earn six semester hours of credit in a variety of subjects; many courses are fully accredited and may be applied toward a degree at BCC or used for other purposes such as certificate renewal and/or inscentive awards for public school teachers. Approximately five different study-tours are offered each summer, with opportunities to study in Europe, the Middle East, Mexico, and The Orient.

DIVISION OF SOCIAL SCIENCES

The Division of Social Sciences offers academic courses in three program areas: University Parallel, Certificate and Non-Credit. The objectives of the Division as reflected in the nine discipline areas are to acquaint the student with the various aspects of humans in relation to their culture, environmental behavioral patterns, heritage, and political institutions. The Division of Social Sciences also offers three special programs in the areas of Education: an A.S. Degree for Administrators for Teachers of Private Nursery School, and Associate in Science Degree programs in Secretarial Teacher Aide and Teacher Aide.

ALLIED HEALTH CENTER CAMPUS

Broward Community College offers eleven health-related programs leading to an A.S. degree or certificate: Dental Assisting, Dietetic Technology, Emergency Medical Technology, Nursing Technology, Physical Therapist Assisting, Respiratory Therapy, Radiologic Technology, Radiation Therapy and Ultrasound. Admission to these programs is limited because of clinical facilities and staff.

Upon completing general requirements for admission to the College, an applicant must submit the appropriate Allied Health program application to the admissions clerk. The admissions clerk monitors the admissions procedures for all prospective Allied Health students.

Criteria used in selecting students vary from program to program but generally include high school diploma or equivalent, grade point average, reading and mathematics test scores, and physical records.

Applicants not accepted into a program may re-apply.

OPEN COLLEGE

If traveling to a campus presents a problem, Open College provides a solution. Open College provides college credit courses by directed study (most on television, radio or audio-cassettes) so that students may remain at home while taking classes and travel to campus for examinations only a few times each term.

The variety of courses offered through Open College allows students to make significant progress toward the Associate in Arts degree from Broward Community College. During the academic year, students may choose from courses offered in social sciences, composition, humanities, sciences, business, and other areas!

Each Open College course carries regular college credit and each is equivalent to the courses offered on campus. The requirements for the courses include lectures on television, radio, or audiotapes in place of formal classroom sessions. Students in Open College courses and the faculty members in charge of those courses maintain contact with each other by mail and telephone, through discussion sessions and, or course, the examination sessions.

Information about the schedule of Open College courses may be found in the registration centers, in the Open College Catalog or in the Open College office in Building 1, Room 116, Central Campus or by calling 475-6603.

Students will find that participating in Open College courses can be a convenient and valuable educational experience.

In addition, student publications serve as a training opportunity for students interested in professional journalism.

MORE GENERAL INFORMATION

LIBRARY

The college Libraries exist to collect printed material to help with assignments and to provide a quiet place for students to study. Students are welcome to make recommendations for the purchase of books.

The staff attempts to maintain an atmosphere of scholarly endeavor in the reading rooms and discourage talking of any nature. Where library space permits, the library provides a conference room for students needing to study together for class assignments such as speech assignments, accounting problems, group presentations and similar projects clearly related to class work.

Early, in each term, the library staff conducts an orientation in the use of the library. Times and dates of these presentations are posted and are announced in the English classes. The orientation is designed to show students where to look for basic information in books, newspapers, and magazines.

Students who wish to check material out of the library must present their library ID card which is issued in the library only upon presentation of the current Fee Receipt.

Magazines are not allowed outside of the reading rooms. The library restricts borrowers to no more than three books on any one subject. Books are checked out for a specific period of time and if no other student has placed a "hold" against them, they are renewable one time, either in person or by phone.

When books are returned late, an overdue charge of 10¢ per day is charged. If a student loses a book, he should notify the library at once so the fine can be stopped. Students must then pay for the loss based on the price of the book, fines and other costs. Failure to pay a fine results in grades, transcripts and graduation being withheld until the fine is cleared.

MILITARY SCIENCE/ARMY ROTC

Army ROTC (Reserve Officers' Training Corps) is a program that provides college-trained officers for the U.S. Army National guard and the U.S. Army Reserve. It is open to any full-time student, male or female, attending Broward Community College who is between the ages of 18 and 26 years of age (up to age 28 years for veterans). ROTC enhances a student's education by providing leadership and management experience found in few other college courses. This training helps students develop self-discipline, physical stamina, and poise - qualities basic to success in any worth-while career. Students can earn a commission as a Second Lieutenant in the U.S. Army (Active, Reserve, or National Guard) while earning their college degree.

Subjects (1 credit hours each) cover the areas of management principles, national defense, military leadership development, military courtesy, discipline, and military skills. Uniforms and necessary military science textbooks and materials are furnished at no cost to students. Other activities, in conjunction with Military Science, offered at BCC Central Campus are ROTC Raiders (tailored after the U.S. Army Ranger Program); Rifle Marksmanship (given at Pistol range in Criminal Justice Building); and weekend training exercises.

GENERAL EXPECTATIONS

1. The student, upon admission, agrees to abide all College regulations contained in the College Catalog and the Student Handbook as well as local, state and federal law. In addition, students are expected to exercise common sense, good taste (consistent with contemporary standards of the College Community), and applyed reason in their quest for an education.
2. Students are expected to prefer fact to opinion and to commit themselves to genuine enlightenment rather than to inflexible adherence to limited knowledge.
3. Students are expected to respect the rights and welfare of other members of the College Community.
4. Broward Community College, like most institutions of higher learning, recognizes that a thoughtful and reasoned search for truth can be conducted only in an atmosphere free of intimidation and coercion. Consequently, violence, and threat of violence, disruption, intimidating or jeopardizing actions are unacceptable to the academic community. Students are expected to examine critically, analyze and otherwise evaluate the college, its programs, and policies and procedures utilizing the processes which appeal to reason and do not compromise the academic climate, mission or integrity of the institution.
5. Students are expected to assume full responsibility for their individual and collective actions and to participate seriously and purposefully in campus life.

ADMISSION TO BROWARD COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Broward Community College recognizes and practices the concept of freedom of access to higher education within the context of the normal admission requirements contained in the College Catalog. Prospective students are assured that applications for admission will be judged in a fair and impartial manner, using consistently applied established criteria.

STUDENT RECORDS

The nature of an educational institution requires that records be kept. However, students are assured that no record shall be made or retained unless there is a legitimate need for the information contained therein. The confidentiality of a student's academic record will be protected and information will be released only to authorized members of the College Community. Of course a student shall have the right to inspect his own official transcript and to authorize the College to release information to extra-College sources.

Information of a counseling or non-academic nature shall not be made available to any extra-College person without written authorization from the student except in the case of applicable federal and state laws and court orders which compel the release of information or in cases that involve the safety of persons or property. Information of this type may be released to faculty and administration on a need-to-know basis in circumstances in which the student's development or welfare might be facilitated.

STUDENT ACADEMIC FREEDOM AND RESPONSIBILITY

Students are free to take reasoned exception to data and views offered in the classroom and to reserve judgement about matters of opinion, but that are responsible for learning the content of any course for which they are enrolled.

The student has a right to a course grade that represents the instructor's professional judgement of his performance in the course without personal prejudice and to protection against improper disclosure of information concerning his grades, beliefs, or character which an instructor acquires in the course of his professional association with the student. Judgements of ability and character may be provided under appropriate circumstances, normally with the consent of the student.

The student is responsible for classroom behavior which is conducive to the educational process and for achieving standards of performance established by the instructor.

The instructor has final authority in all matters relating to course content, grading practices, and classroom procedures, consistent with the philosophy, purposes, and established policies of the College. A course grade is the final responsibility of the instructor. In the matter of grading, it is, therefore, essential that each faculty member keep each student informed of his progress in a course.

If a student feels that he has been unfairly graded in a course, he may informally appeal to the instructor and then to the department head. If the complaint is not resolved, he may then appeal without prejudice to this position to the division chairperson, and to the Campus Dean of Academic Affairs. Final Appeal, in writing, may be made to the Academic Standards Committee of the College.

POSSESSION OF FIREARMS, DRUGS, OR ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES

Offenses involving theft, the use or possession of firearms, lethal weapons, drugs and alcoholic beverages are essentially civil matters which address themselves to the discretion of local, state, and federal authorities, but may subject the possessor or user to College discipline when such offenses and their effects adversely interfere with the well being of, or reflect on, the college or members of the College Community.

The College specifically prohibits, on campus, the possession, sale exchange, consumption or giving away of any beverage of alcoholic content; any stimulant, depressant, narcotic or hallucinogenic drug or agent having potential for physical or mental abuse, except on prescription by a physician or dentist. Florida law requires the automatic expulsion of a student who is adjudicated guilty of lawful possession of any narcotic drug, central nervous system stimulant, hallucinogenic drug, or barbituates.

The College also prohibits the possession or use of firearms, fireworks, or lethal weapons on campus. The possession or use of any such device may result in disciplinary action by the College. In no event, however, shall the individuals' status as a student protect him from his responsibilities to the applicable local, state or federal laws.

Students and faculty at this college have the right to an atmosphere free from any adverse effects of cigarette smoke. Therefore, the following areas are designated as non-smoking throughout the college: classrooms, restrooms, hallways not accessible to open air, elevators, libraries, laboratories, conference/seminar rooms, and all other areas so designated by signs posted by college authorities. Any person wishing to report a student or faculty member in violation of this policy may do so by making a report in writing to the Dean of Students of the campus on which the infraction occured.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Academic work submitted by a student to his instructor is assumed to be the result of his own thought, research, or self-expression. Further, when a student borrows ideas, wording, or organization from another source he is expected to acknowledge that fact in the appropriate manner. Plagiarism is unacceptable to the College Community.

STANDARDS OF CONDUCT

As a member of the College Community, a student is expected to act responsibly in all areas of personal and social conduct. In addition to the general expectations included elsewhere in this document, students are expected to observe the academic and behavioral regulations found in the College Catalog and this Handbook.

Violations of the standard of conduct contained herein will, in most cases, be treated as College disciplinary matters. However, in certain situations the application of civil and criminal law and/or the injunctive process will be employed in order to preserve the system of order and freedom necessary for the maintenance of an educational environment. Any individual or group action which results in or threatens denial of any of the following may result in the application of civil or criminal law or an injunction: Destruction or illegal occupation of College property; trespass; personal jeopardy to any member or guest of the College Community.

ALCOHOL USE, MARKETING AND PROMOTION

In view of the public opinion and legislative action involving alcohol abuse, the following policies are established regarding both the use of alcohol and the marketing practices associated with alcoholic beverages at BCC.

1. Beverage alcohol advertising on campus or in institutional media, including promotion of events as well as products, should not portray drinking as a solution to the personal or academic problems of students or as necessary to social, sexual, or academic success.
2. Informational marketing programs should include educational material regarding responsible and legal use of the product represented.
3. No sampling of alcoholic beverages during campus marketing programs is permitted.
4. Beverage alcohol is not to be provided for awards to individual students or student organizations.
5. Promotional activities should not be associated with existing campus events without the prior knowledge and consent of the Director of Student Life.
6. Local off-campus promotional activities, primarily directed at students, must be developed in consultation with the Director of Student Life.
7. Consumption or storage of alcoholic beverages on or in College property will not be permitted. This includes any College facility, boat, or vehicle.
8. Consumption of alcoholic beverages by students during a College sponsored trip is not permitted.
9. During the promotion of off-campus events where alcoholic beverages will be available, advertisement of the availability of alternative non-alcoholic beverages must be provided on all promotional materials.
10. During the College sponsored events at off-campus facilities where alcoholic beverages are available, the College does not support or promote alcohol consumption by students.
11. Student organizations who, on their own time in the name of the organization, sponsor off-campus events where alcoholic beverages are available, must also have alternative beverages available. The College is in no way responsible for these events.

ANTI-HAZING POLICY

Broward Community College prohibits any acts of hazing on or off campus by individual students, student groups; or organizations or any other individuals or groups associated with the College.

The College defines hazing in a manner consistent with Florida Law 81-263 as follows:

Any action or situation which recklessly or intentionally endangers the mental or physical health or safety of a student for the purpose of initiation or admission into or affiliation with any organization operating under the sanction of Broward Community College. Such term shall include, but not be limited to, any brutality of a physical nature, such as whipping, beating, branding, forced calisthenics, exposure to the elements, forced consumption of any food, liquor, drug, or other substance, or any other forced physical activity which could adversely affect the physical health or safety of the individual, and shall include any activity which would subject the individual to extreme mental stress, such as sleep deprivation, forced exclusion from social contact, forced conduct, or any other forced activity which could result in extreme embarrassment or which could adversely affect the mental health or dignity of the individual. Any activity as described above upon which the initiation or admission into or affiliation with a community college organization is directly or indirectly conditioned shall be presumed to be a "forced" activity, the willingness of an individual to participate in such activity notwithstanding.

The enforcement of this policy shall be the responsibility of the Vice President for Student Affairs who shall promulgate and distribute specific rules at least once each academic year in a manner consistent with College policy. Additionally, each student organization at Broward Community College shall adopt by-laws which specifically declare intent to adhere to this policy.

Individual's who violate this policy shall be subject to the disciplinary procedures and penalties outlined in Policy 6Hx2-5.06 and Procedure A6Hx2-5.06.

Organizations or other College groups who are accused violating this policy shall be afforded a hearing before the College Discipline Committee. In the event guilt is determined the committee may recommend monetary fines, suspension of campus privileges, suspension of all activities or expulsion of the organization from the institution.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT

The policy on sexual harassment defines such sexual harassment and the following procedures set forth the conduct personnel shall observe in preventing or in dealing with instances of sexual harassment:

Within the College, a supervisor, faculty member, or administrator, who uses implicit or explicit coercive sexual behavior to control, influence, or affect the career, salary, or job of an employee, or the grades, recommendations, or class work of a student is engaging in sexual harassment. Similarly, an employee of the College who acts in this manner in the process of conducting College business is engaging in sexual harassment. In addition any faculty member, staff, or administrator who participates in deliberate or repeated unsolicited verbal comments, gestures, or physical contact of a sexual nature which are unwelcome and interfere with the work productivity of an employee or academic performance of a student is also engaging in sexual harassment.

It is not the intent of the college to regulate the social interactions or relationships freely entered into by employees that do not affect or interfere with an employee's job performance.

DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURES

The administration of student discipline is flexible and is essentially consistent with the philosophy and education objectives of Broward Community College.

In those cases not likely to result in a termination of the student's relationship with the College, the Vice President for Student Affairs shall have responsibility for the administration of student descipline and may impose varying degrees of disciplinary probation. Disciplinary probation may include any of or all of the following sanctions:

Written reprimand, loss of certain campus privileges, including participation in inter-collegiate and intramural activities, student organizations, student government, entry on permanent record, compulsory class monetary fines, penalty work hours, and/or notification of parents if the student is under 18 years of age.

A student who is not satisfied with the imposed disciplinary probation may appeal within three school days, in writing, to the College Discipline Committee. In more serious cases, likely to result in suspension or expulsion of the student from the academic community, te discipline committee shall have primary authority.

In all cases the Vice President for Student Affairs shall decide whether a case is to be handled by the College Discipline Committee.

In cases in which a student's physical or emotional safety is jeopardized, or when the general safety of other memebers of the College Community or College property is threatened, or when the orderly progression of the lawful educational objectives of the College are jeopardized, the student may be removed from the campus community by the President or his designated representative pending a hearing.

In all cases, the right of the students and of Broward Community College shall be protected. The following procedures are designed to provide for this projection:

DUE PROCESS

1. The student shall be notified, in writing, that he is accused of a violation. Notice shall contain a detailed description of the charges, a list of witnesses, if any, and the date, time, and place of hearing. The hearing shall be held no earlier than 48 hours from the date of notice. In some cases the student may waive his right to a hearing and elect to accept the decision of the Vice President for Student Affairs. In such a case the student will sign a statement waiving both the hearing and his right to appeal the decision.

2. The student may continue to attend classes and College activities until the hearing is held and pending appeal at the discretion of the President.

3. The student is entitled to be present at the hearing and to have an advisor of his choice.

4. The student may ask questions of any College official or witness at the hearing and may introduce any evidence relevent to his case.

5. The College reserves the right to conduct the hearing in a formal or informal manner and may follow any procedure which incorporates fair play and the elements of due process.

6. The student may request a written report on the results and findings of the hearings. Such a report shall be issued within 48 hours.

7. The College will keep a record of the proceedings which will be made available to the student in the event of an appeal.

8. Any student who is suspended or expelled from Broward Community College by the Discipline Committee shall have the right to appeal said decision to the President. Any appeal must be made in writing and in all cases shall be filed no later than the fifth school day following the student's receipt of the Committee's decision. Within three days after receipt of an appeal, the president shall appoint a three member ad hoc Appeals Committee composed of interested faculty who shall inquire fully into the case and make a recommendation the President. In some cases the ad hoc committee and/or the student may elect to proceed de novo, thus affording the student an opportunity to present his case in full for a second hearing. In all cases the elements of due process described above shall apply. The President's ad hoc Appeals Committee, after a full and complete review and investigation, shall makes its recommendation to the President and he, in turn, will render a decision within three days.

Any student who is still dissatisfied may file an appeal, through the President, to the Board of Trustees. The decision of the Board of Trustees shall be final.

2. Membership in the organization is open to all bonafide students at the College without respect to race, creed, or national origin.

3. A statement of purpose, criteria for membership, rules or procedures, and a current list of officers is filed with the Director of Student Life.

4. The membership, policies, and actions of the organizations are determined by vote of only those persons who hold bona fide membership in the College Community.

5. A faculty advisor is selected whose name is filed with the Director of Student Life.

6. The organization is in compliance with the general and specific policies enumerated in this document and elsewhere in this Handbook.

Organizations are always free to support causes by orderly means (consistent with the guidelines constained in this document) which do not disrupt the regular and essential operation of Broward Community College. At the same time, it should be made clear to the academic and the larger community that in their public expressions or demonstrations, students, student organizations, and guest speakers represent their own views. Broward Community College neither sanctions nor endorses the expressions or viewpoints represented.
